LWW The entire project wasn't scientifically valid, that wouldn't be implemented in the laboratory now. It wouldn't have even been commenced, quite frankly.

LWW My report deals with the whole project. I called out the entire project from the title to the recommendations. The project, in my opinion, should never have got off the ground. It was an incorrectly designed study for that level of change. So, in my opinion, it should have never been commenced let alone the issues that I identified. In discussions with the Commission of Inquiry, Counsel assisting, I went through multiple issues and took them through each section of the report, each section, sorry, of the Project 13 report and the concerns that I had. The questions in my report were very specific and the report is more focused on the specific questions that were asked but the Project 13 project was discussed in detail from beginning to end including the yield issues because we went through each ... each section and in the end the project focuses, oh, sorry, my report focuses on ... that the project was completely invalid.
